ECNet

builds a network between young scientists enables access to experienced scientists is established in close guidance with the AGAH

Aim is to connect young scientists starting their career in pharmaceutical development.
ECNet represents a platform to exchange knowledge and discuss all aspects in drug discovery and development.

The network also addresses career steps/questions and helps young scientists to identify career goals.

Being part of the network helps young scientists to learn, develop and move forward.

The ECNetwork welcomes interested scientists from all over Europe.

ECNet offers:

- Meetings
- Workshops
- Mailing list
- Social network groups (LinkedIn, RG)

ECNet was launched in summer 2018
